Engineered For Customer Satisfaction

Fratto Engineering Inc. (FEI), is in the business of providing Mechanical, Electrical and Plumbing engineering support to the Architectural Community.

FEI believes the key to customer satisfaction begins with a willingness to listen to the customer's needs and concerns. In addition, Fratto believes that other key components needed for staying competitive are delivering accurate and on time documents.

FEI prides itself on the checks and balances in place to support these beliefs, maximize quality control, and provide customers with the best possible finished product.

Constantly upgrading departments provides FEI with the kind of professional growth and added credentials that keep their competitive edge. They also maintain a state-of-the-art awareness of new industry advances to better compete in an ever changing market.

For more information visit the FEI website at www.frattoeng.com, or call 817-461-2337.
